Hartzell will probably be used in the capacity of a scout or may be placed as a manager of some good minor league club, or, if he so desires, will be given his unconditional release at the close of the season, as he will then be eligible to become a free agent under the rules of the players' agreement.

even ruffle one another's hairthere is no telling what they might do to an outsider.

According to Scotty Monteith, the tanny manager of Johnny Dundee, the bout between Lundee and Joe Welling at Madison Square Garden Wednesday announces that on this momentous occasion the bounding Scotchwop will uncork a punch which has hitherto remained unknown to pugilistic science.

Come to think of it there are very few boxers who discovered new punches in recent years. John L. Sullivan introduced the ever popular right hand punch to the jaw. James J. Corbett discovered the hook. Robert Fitzsimmons upset pugdom with the solar plexus blow. But of recent years the unimaginative boxers have come to the conclusion that there can be nothing new in the ancient art of fisticutfs.

Just what Dundee's blow will be Monteith even refuses to hint. It is supposed to remain a dark secret until it, suddenly lands somewhere on Joe Welling and causes James Johnston's protegé to drop, wondering who beaned him with a twelve-inch shell. One think is certain that if Dundee can put away Welling with one punch, the blow will be of great benefit to pugilistic science.

When news of this discovery reached the sharp-pointed and alert ears of James Johnston, the boy handit merely little will meet Joe Jakson, the boy handit merely ville, will meet Joe Jakson, the boy andit met at litting flyweight of the East Side. "The only way that Dundee could flatten Welling would be to bring a sledge into the ring," said Mr. Johnston, "and yo' know that they will never be able to do that with little James around."

But Scotty Monteith wraps the drapery of his plaid around him and, reefing up his kilts, shakes his Glengarry with ominous vehemmence.
